

The Daily Market Report

PORTLAND, Feb. 11.—"So far as trade in blue steam wheat is concerned, standing quotations might as well be withdrawn, as has been done on the Sound," said an official of one of the local milling companies today.

"There is practically no blue stem to be had in the Northwest at this time. Scattering lots are to be found in farmers' and dealers' hands in the country, but so bullish are the holders of this grain that it is all but useless for anyone to attempt to dislodge it at any price. Even at the high prices that have been offered in some quarters they show as little disposition to sell as they did when the grain was quoted under the dollar mark.

"Many reports have circulated the past few days of blue steam sales at prices ranging from $1.10 to $1.15 and these has of course been some business at those figures, but its importance has been somewhat overestimated. These extreme values have represented not actual current values but rather the extremity of certain millers' or dealers' wants on certain occasions. At times millers will pay a premium for a grade of wheat which for the time they urgently need."

Poultry of all sorts moved today at yesterday's prices, with the supply on the whole moderate and the demand generally good. Hens and chickens were the most active features. Receipts, according to the Board of Trade, were 87 coops of chickens, 2 coops of ducks, 3 of turkeys and 2815 pounds of dressed stock.

Eggs continue to come in freely, and though the market today held about steady at the last quotations, a generally downward movement is expected for the next few weeks. For the present the bulk of the supply comes from the Willamette Valley. The day's receipts were 254 cases.

Hexamethylenetetramine

The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities, and avoid a serious malady. T. F. Laurin, Owl Drug Store.

Neurotic Up to Date.
A Hare, meeting a Tortoise one day, remarked as he looked at the Tortoise's heavy shell and short feet, "I think I could beat you in a race."
"All right," answered the Tortoise. "It is not every race that is won by a hare."

At the hour appointed for the contest the Hare soon left the Tortoise out of sight and, feeling sure of winning, lay down by the roadside to take a nap. After a half hour's sleep and rest he resumed the race. But the Tortoise had turned into a wayside garage and hired an automobile, and so he soon overtook the fleet footed Hare.

The Hare was going at the limit of his speed, but the Tortoise was going at the speed limit and won the race by three miles and seven laps.

When the Hare, in the course of time, arrived at the post he said, with a sigh, "You'll never catch me in an endurance race again."

Moral—Foot racing is healthy, but motoring is swifter.—St. Nicholas.

Neighborhood Advice.
I am not one of those who insist that everybody should mind his own business; that is too harsh a doctrine. One of the rights and privileges of a good neighbor is to give neighborhood advice.

But there is a corresponding right on the part of the advisee, and that is to take no more of the advice than he thinks is good for him. There is one thing that a man knows about his own business better than any outsider, and that is how hard it is for him to do it.

The adviser is always telling him how to do it in the finest possible way, while he, poor fellow, knows that the paramount issue is whether he can do it at all. It requires some grace on the part of a person who is doing the best he can under extremely difficult circumstances to accept cheerfully the remarks of the intelligent critic.—S. M. Crothers in Atlantic.

DIKES IN GERMANY.

They Are Built With Great Care and Exactness.
When a dike is to be built—and they are still in places making dikes—it is first mapped out by the neatly straightened stakes, a long straight causeway leading out from shore and widening into a rounded head which abuts on the red line of the channel. Then a ground sill or foundation mattress of willows is woven and sunk at this head and pinned down and held in place by the sharpened pegs. Then wattles are woven and sand filled in, and in places rock, and then, rounding up neatly out of the water and forming a tight covering to the whole, the hand squared blocks of stone are laid, as closely as a city pavement, all over the head and back along the neck to the old shore. It is as permanent and stable as the Harvard stadium, the dike so built, and the river, abandoning the space back of the tip to slack water or to be filled in with sand, flows on with entire grace in the restricted channel beyond the tip.

The care and exactness with which these dikes are made would be laughable if it were not so successful. In a land where hard labor is very cheap days are devoted to doing what in America would be roughly cast by machinery in a couple of hours. But the result is so admirable that one remembers regretfully the ugly pile dikes, the horrid fringes of the improved "off channel" banks of the Mississippi.

Where the dikes have accomplished their purpose and generally on the banks opposite to them the river is revented above middle water. This, too, is done with the hand squared stones, and as a result the Elbe where completely finished resembles a broad canal between stone lined banks, the stone rising a few feet above the water, and above it the green slope of the fields or a fringe of willows. It is all peaceful, complete and generally beautiful, with at least the beauty of utility where it lacks that of ruggedness and wildness.—Boston Transcript.

CATARH CURED
No Cure, No Pay, Is a Most Generous Offer.

To get an antiseptic strong enough to kill catarrh germs, and not destroy the tissues of the membrane at the same time, has been a problem which was never solved until the discovery of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mey).

Hyomei is prepared from eucalyptus, the most powerful yet healing antiseptic known. Breathe it through the inhaler over the inflamed and germ-ridden membrane four or five times a day, and in a few days the germs will disappear.

The inflamed condition will go, too, and the snuffling, hawking and offensive breath, and the discharge of mucus and crusts in the nose will cease.

Then why should any catarrh sufferer hesitate, when T. F. Laurin has such faith in Hyomei that he offers to return your money if after a fair trial Hyomei does not cure catarrh.

A complete Hyomei outfit, including the inhaler, costs $1.00, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, cost but 50c. Hyomei also cures asthma, croup, sore throat, colds or grip.
